

Southeastern Michigan Association of Fire Chiefs and the Michigan Professional Fire Fighters Union are proud to present

CO: The Silent Killer Featuring Randolph Mantooth

Randolph Mantooth has traveled the distance from his portrayal of LA County Firefighter/Paramedic Johnny Gage on the 1970s TV show EMERGENCY! to being a well-known and respected advocate today for all emergency responders. Today, Randy is traveling the country on behalf of the IAFF's new international health and safety initiative aimed at educating fire fighters about the duty-related dangers of carbon monoxide (CO) and reducing known risk factors that unnecessarily kill and injure hundreds of fire fighters each year. His personal, from-the-heart talk, "CO: The Silent Killer" is guaranteed to motivate fire fighters and paramedics to take a more proactive role in reducing on the job risks to their health and safety. Don't miss this presentation.
